

January 21, 2002

Roundtable II

Marc Faber leads off the second installment of Barron's annual Roundtable with a wealth of global insights. Oscar Schafer, who said to short Enron last year, offers a quartet of potential winners. Hedge-fund master Art Samberg sees little hope for a quick tech rebound but still has picks. And Mario Gabelli offers his unique view of media deal-making.

